1. Aims

Relationships and sex education at Thomas Lord Audley School is one element of our student personal development programme, the purpose of which is to equip students with the knowledge they need to enable them to live safe, fulfilled and healthy lives.

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

Our working principles of Ready – Respectful – Responsible underpin RSE and the ways in which it is delivered at Thomas Lord Audley School.

2. Statutory requirements

As a secondary academy school we must provide RSE to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in Section 80A of the Education Act 2002 and section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Thomas Lord Audley School we teach RSE as set out in this policy and in line with the Sex and Relationship Education guidance (2020).

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed following national best practice guidelines and will continue to be developed following feedback from staff, pupils and parents. The policy has been shared with and ratified by governors.

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum which is delivered in tutorial time and within the curriculum time (Year 7 - 11). Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE), politics, belief and society (PBS) lessons and citizenship.

Some elements of learning may be delivered by invited trained health professionals rather than pupils' teachers/tutors.

RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

- Families
- Respectful relationships, including friendships
- Online and media
- Being safe
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The governing board

The governing board will approve the RSE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

7.2 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modeling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from non-statutory components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

Staff with responsibility for the teaching of RSE include

- teachers of science (biological understanding of reproduction)
- teachers of computing (online safety)
- teachers of political, beliefs and society (PBS) in Key Stage 3
- teachers of life skills, citizenship and religious education in Key Stage 4
- form tutors
- PSHE delivery team
- School Improvement leader and Assistant Headteacher (Personal Development)

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher and will be taken on a case by case situation. If the request is upheld, the student will only be removed for the specified content requested and for the set period of delivery.

Support and changes will be in place to support any student and/or parent as an alternative and prior to a student being removed from the content.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The headteacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

The pupil's form tutor and other relevant staff will be informed so that arrangements may be made when needed during the year. Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education, to be undertaken in a supervised setting separate from the classroom where sex education is being taught.

9. Training

Staff deployed to teach RSE are given training, resources and support to ensure that they have the knowledge, skills and confidence required to deliver this element of the curriculum effectively.

The Headteacher/Assistant Headteacher (Personal Development) will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by the PSHE/RSE lead and Assistant Headteacher (Teaching and Learning) as part of our internal quality of teaching and learning review cycle.

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by the governor with responsibility for safeguarding annually. At every review, the policy will be approved by The Local Governing Committee.
